Win by Doing Nothing!

If there is one thing that does not change in the topsy-turvy world of investing is Black Swan events and global events to trigger market panic and by creating Negative Sentiments.

The latest illustration of this timeless pattern comes courtesy of the trade war unfolding between the US and almost everyone else. As tariffs fly back and forth like diplomatic hand grenades, the Indian markets display their customary nervousness, with the Sensex performing what financial journalists call a 'nosedive'.

Consider what's happening: President Trump imposes sweeping tariffs, markets plunge, China retaliates, markets plunge further, a 90-day pause is announced (except for China), markets rallied 4700 points in 4 Market Sessions and investors obsessively refresh their portfolio apps and most of the investors did miss this rally.

But step back for a moment. What has changed about the fundamental nature of the Indian economy since last month? Are Indians suddenly consuming less?

Has our technological prowess diminished overnight? Will we stop needing homes, healthcare, or financial services because of tariffs? Of course not. The market reaction reflects uncertainty, not fundamental economic collapse.

History offers a compelling perspective. Think about what India has weathered in the past few decades: wars, currency crises, political upheavals, demonetisation, banking scandals, a global pandemic, and previous rounds of trade tensions. Yet, through it all, disciplined investors who maintained regular investments and diversified portfolios have done remarkably well. The noise of daily news eventually fades, but the underlying growth trajectory remains.

This brings us to many investors' questions: "What should I do now?" My answer might disappoint those hoping for sophisticated market-timing strategies or sector rotation advice: For most people, the best course of action is to do absolutely nothing.

Shut up and Wait!

Weekly Market Pulse

Domestic equity markets rose after witnessing a fall in the previous weeks as key benchmark indices BSE Sensex and Nifty 50 rose 4.52% and 4.48%, respectively

The rally was broad based as the mid-cap segment and the small-cap segment both closed the week in the green

Domestic equity markets rallied following the U.S. President's announcement of tariff exemptions for smartphones and computers, along with a suggestion of a potential halt on auto tariffs.

The U.S. President mentioned that he was contemplating changes to the 25% tariffs on foreign auto and auto parts imports from Mexico, Canada, and other nations, which has alleviated concerns about a potential trade war.

Additionally, the positive sentiment was bolstered by foreign institutional investors being net buyers during the week, also contributed to the positive mood ahead of a long weekend.

On the BSE sectoral front, BSE Realty surged 7.08% as investors assessed the impact of rate cut by the RBI on real estate demand
